

About me

I'm Sem, a 24-year-old designer specializing in UX/UI. My journey began in 2016 at Nova College in Haarlem, where I studied digital design. During this time, I gained valuable insights and expertise in designing websites, apps, and working with various digital media formats.

Currently, I'm in my fourth year at Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences, studying Communication and Multimedia Design. My primary focus and passion revolve around UX/UI and behavioural design. I'm enthusiastic about continuing to refine and expand my skills in these areas in the years to come.
